ANS Magazine

All members receive the quarterly ANS Magazine, which offers engaging numismatic content and award-winning articles.

American Journal of Numismatics

The American Journal of Numismatics (AJN) is an international, peer-reviewed academic journal that annually publishes original research in all areas of numismatics.

Journal of Early American Numismatics

The Journal of Early American Numismatics (JEAN) is a biannual peer-reviewed journal dedicated to the study of early American numismatics, focusing on the Colonial and Confederation periods of the US, as well as early numismatics from the Americas.

New Fellows are elected by the ANS Board of Trustees annually.

Only Associate Members of the Society who consistently display exemplary personal or professional qualifications and generosity towards the ANS and numismatics may be nominated.
